Contemptible Meanness.

Some months ago, the Mayor of McMinnville, Mr. D. B. Carson, had some correspondence with Messrs. Ingersoll & Peyton, of Knoxville, with regard to putting in a water works plant at McMinnville, mention of which was made through these columns at the time. Mr. Carson received a letter from Messrs. Ingersoll & Peyton a few days ago, from which we take the following paragraph:

"One day last week, we started Mr. E. H. Burlingame, a professional hydraulic Engineer, to your city for the purpose of examining your water supply and location of your streets, so that he might determine whether it would pay his company to construct water works for your people. On reaching Tullahoma Mr. Burlingame was informed that the city of McMinnville was so much in debt that it could not stand additional taxation for the purpose of paying water rentals, and therefore did not call on you. The information received by him may have been erroneous. If it turns out that your city is able to pay water rentals, and is willing to pay a reasonable sum for that purpose, we will send Mr. Burlingame back to see you, or send some other Hydraulic Engineer."

The individual or individuals who gave Mr. Burlingame the "information" as stated above lied wilfully and maliciously. Never in the history of McMinnville has it had one dollar of bonded indebtedness, at the present it has not a penny of floating debt, but on the other hand has money in bank to its credit, with a goodly sum of yet uncollected taxes. Every street in the town is well graveled from one extremity of the corporate limits to the other, and the business portion of the town is well lighted all night with electric lights. We have a system of city schools unsurpassed by any other town in Tennessee, which are open ten months in the year. (The colored school has been suspended during the last session on account of the destruction of the building by fire, but a new building will be erected during the coming summer, and the city treasury will have the cash to pay for it.)

There are some people at Tullahoma, we know not who they are nor do we care to know, who seem to make it their special business to watch at the depot there for strangers enroute to McMinnville, and use every means in their power to prevent them from coming here, and they scruple at no falsehood or misrepresentation to accomplish this object. They never approach any one who has ever been to McMinnville, and knows anything of the place, knowing that with such persons their tissue of lies would avail nothing.

Our sprightly neighbor, Tullahoma, deserves much credit for its continued growth under many discouraging circumstances. The place has many enterprising, public spirited citizens who are an honor to the town, but it has some idling, busy-body liars who bring reproach and injury upon their own town by the methods they pursue toward McMinnville.

Messrs. Ingersoll & Peyton may send on another engineer, but we advise them to find a man for the next trip who is not soft enough to believe anything he hears at Tullahoma regarding McMinnville.

Gaskell Literary Club.

J. O. Pool, representative of the Gaskell Literary Club is in town soliciting memberships. We have had occasion to examine into the merits of this Club, and find it thoroughly reliable, its object is to furnish all classes of books, periodicals, music, artist's materials, etc., at wholesale prices. Any one who takes one or more papers or magazines, or buys a few books will find it very advantageous to be a member of this Club. Each member is presented with an elegant art edition of Shakespeare free, which alone is worth the price of membership. When this gentleman calls on you be sure you inquire into the many advantages offered by this organization. It is one of the trusts from which the people gain the largest profits.

Tribute of Respect.

WHEREAS, It has pleased the omnipotent Grand Master to call from earthly labor to eternal refreshment the soul of our beloved brother, Mortimer Augustus Doty, the acting Tyler of his lodge, and

WHEREAS, During the greater portion of his life and unto the time of his death his love for the order of Free and Accepted Masons and practice of the generous and glorious principles of the same, has been a lesson to his surviving brethren, and

WHEREAS, His brethren of Warren Lodge No. 125, do deeply and sincerely deplore his loss, and truly and tenderly cherish his memory, therefore Be it Resolved,

1, That we accept this visitation of sorrow with bowed hearts and spirits, resigned to the will of our Heavenly Father who doeth all things well.

2, That we cherish his memory as a dutiful, zealous and faithful man and Mason, prompt in the execution of every duty and true to the glorious teachings of our mystic ritual.

3, That our Tyler's sword, the implement he honorably carried by pro tempore appointment for so many years under circumstances to be fully appreciated only by members of the lodge, be draped in mourning and that we, his brethren, wear the usual badge of sorrow for 30 days.

4, That our tenderest sympathy and sincere condolence are hereby tendered to the sorrow stricken family whose hearts are crushed with this great bereavement.

5, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the lodge, a copy furnished his family, and that a memorial page in our minute book, suitably ornamented and engrossed, be dedicated to his memory.

Many localities in Pennsylvania have suffered greatly from freshets and floods this week. The ill-fated town of Johnstown has had a flood most equal to the great disaster there a year or more ago, only this one came more slowly, and gave the people a chance to get out themselves, but many houses were destroyed, and much furniture, etc., in scores of others has been badly damaged.
